Merry Christmas

Yes, MERRY Christmas.

Despite Hitler and Hirohito, despite the suffering and chaos of war, the spirit of Christmas still lives.

This spirit, rich in its promise of those same goals for which our boys today are fighting, has for nineteen centuries warmed the hearts of men.

And despite man-made havoc, it is a joyous spirit, traditionally expressed in the greeting, "Merry Christmas."

It is for the preservation of such traditions as this that the war is being fought — for the right to shout "Merry Christmas" and to hope devoutly for "Peace on Earth for Men of Good Will."
